

HIGH COUNTRY DANCERS

Since 2003, the High Country Dancers, from Colorado's Front Range area, have combined high energy aerial squares, flashy round dances, and perhaps a quadrille or contra to create performances that are always new. Each performance is different, drawing from their ever changing repertoire. Now mostly in their 60s and 70s, the dancers prove that age doesn't have to slow you down. Their energy and enthusiasm, not to mention ladies flying through the air, appeal to audiences everywhere. The group has travelled the U.S. from Hawaii to North Carolina, performing at National, Regional, and State Square Dance Conventions. At home, they keep busy with local shows at county fairs, retirement homes, & other events while constantly learning new material. The group is led by Dale Fry, with Todd Albright as the caller.

Dancers: Chuck & Marcie Jordan, Terry & Debbie Gossman, Steve & Deb Frost, Rick Mallinger, Nancy Eakins, Kira Heartson, Todd & Melody Albright, Mark & Lee Hetteema, Dale Fry, Jim & Andy Barnett.

The High Country Dancers doing the Merry Go Round.